Respect Life News: "On January 26, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) published in the Federal Register (Vol. 83, pp. 3880 et seq.) a proposed rule to enforce 25 existing statutory conscience protections for Americans involved in HHS-funded programs, which protect people from being coerced into participating in activities that violate their consciences, such as abortion, sterilization, or assisted suicide. Among the 25 conscience laws are the Church, Coats-Snowe, and Weldon Amendments. Though these laws were passed on a bipartisan basis and have been on the books for years, certain legislators and abortion activists are becoming more emboldened to violate them, and the previous administration did not fully enforce them. This proposed rule seeks to ensure that these laws are enforced. As HHS noted in its press release, "The proposed rule provides practical protections for Americans' conscience rights and is modeled on existing regulations for other civil rights laws." The proposed rule also includes a public comment period of 60 days, which ends on March 27. Parishioners may make such a comment by opening www.humanlifeaction.org/take-action?vvsrc=%2fCampaigns%2f57365%2fRespond.

Human Life Action (HLA) suggests the following comment or one like it: "I strongly commend the Department for publishing these proposed regulations and urge their adoption. For over four decades, through enactments such as the Church Amendment, Congress has sought to ensure that health care institutions and medical professionals will not have to choose between abandoning medicine and violating their conscience, particularly with respect to abortion and sterilization. The proposed regulations will implement these longstanding federal laws and help ensure that no one is forced to participate in abortion or abortion coverage." HLA is a project of the National Committee for a Human Life Amendment (NCHLA) to the Constitution. HLA works closely with the Pro-Life Secretariat of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. Parishioners are strongly encouraged to submit comments.

Mass will include a homily by an archdiocesan priest and a talk by a religious sister. For more information, please contact the Office of Priest Vocations at vocations@adw.org or 202-636-9020.

New Parishioners: If you are new in the area, you are encouraged to register with the parish. Registration forms are available at the main entrance of the Church or from the Rectory Office. Completed forms may be returned by dropping them in the Sunday collection basket, mailed, or brought to the Rectory.
